About Centara Grand Hua Hin

Originally known as the “Railway Hotel”, Centara Grand Hua Hin first opened in the early 1920s, just as the cozy fishing village of Hua Hin was being discovered by the world via the opening of a new railway line to Malaysia. What was to become over time, Thailand’s most refined beach resort was fortuitously graced by the newly-built Railway Hotel, which was designed to classic colonial lines. Now sympathetically restored and expanded to include all of the recreational and guest facilities that travelers expect from a beach resort, the Centara Grand Hua Hin remains one of the ‘grand old hotels’ of the East. Set facing Hua Hin’s famously wide breezy beach front, the hotel is still skirted by an expanse of gardens, an important part of its atmosphere of dignity and serenity and located conveniently to the town center.
