

Royal Orchid Sheraton Hotel & Towers Supports Worldwide Earth Hour Movement for the Environment by Going Dark for One Hour

Royal Orchid Sheraton Hotel & Towers, March 24, 2018 gone dark for one hour on March 24 to shine a light on climate action in support of Earth Hour 2018. The hotel joins millions around the world in turning off its lights at 8:30 p.m. local time to illuminate a powerful message about environmental awareness and action. The World Wildlife Fund (WWF) created the annual global environmental awareness event 11 years ago to emphasize the threat of climate change.

Royal Orchid Sheraton participates by turning off and dimming the lights; using candle light in appropriate public areas, 60+ candles decoration at the lobby, flash mob dance, glow in the dark live music, globe cakes and mocktails for guests. Royal Orchid Sheraton also participates in Marriott International's drive to raise funds for WWF.

"It's a privilege for us to support Earth Hour because it echoes Marriott International's global focus on the environment" said Denise Naguib, Vice President of Sustainability and Supplier Diversity. "Today, business plays a critical role in taking on our world's most pressing social and environmental issues, including climate change. Earth Hour reflects a philosophy we aim to practice year-round through our sustainability & social impact platform, Serve 360."
