Back with a Bang: SEEN Venues in Bangkok and Samui Relaunch with an Art Show + Endless Summer Pool Party

Bangkok + Koh Samui, 1st July 2020: SEEN venues in Bangkok and Koh Samui revolutionise lifestyle entertainment with a celebration of dining, art and retro-chic weekend pool parties. From the buzzing beachfront of Thailand's most iconic island, Chaweng Beach on Koh Samui, to the bright lights of Bangkok's skyline, SEEN is renowned for delivering sinfully good fun in the hottest locations. Both venues are ready to welcome back guests with an unmissable selection of reopening parties.

SEEN Restaurant & Bar Bangkok x MAMABLUES Graffiti Art

SEEN Restaurant & Bar Bangkok (www.seenrooftopbangkok.com), the city's newest rooftop hot spot reopens with a vibrant art exhibition in collaboration with one of Bangkok's most celebrated graffiti artists - MAMABLUES. The poolside sky bar atop Avani+ Riverside Bangkok Hotel invites guests to celebrate the return of Bangkok's world-famous nightlife amid vibrant colours and bold shapes of MAMABLUES' mini-exhibition.

Upon arrival, guests will have their first brush with art: bold illustrations communicating the new health guidelines make following the latest safety protocol a breeze. "Sin and be Safe" - the updated elevator sign and a play on the bar's slogan "Sin and be SEEN" - sets the tone for the night and sees the guests off to the dizzying heights of level 26.

Offering sweeping views of the Chao Phraya River and the city's sparkling skyline, SEEN Restaurant & Bar Bangkok is known for its sophisticated setting, signature cocktails and chill-out vibes.

Injecting a dose of colour with MAMABLUES' vibrant art, the venue introduces patrons to the iconic style of one of Thailand's most prolific street artists. From Museum Siam and Lido Cinema in Bangkok to Seenspace in Hua Hin and countless entertainment hotspots from Chiang Mai to Chonburi, his art is synonymous with modern Thailand.

The new exhibition at SEEN Bangkok celebrates the city's return to living life to the fullest post-COVID, with images of butterflies, flowers and other natural elements as symbols of hope, encouraging visitors to embrace the changes with confidence.
