

THAI Smile Airways to remind passenger check the connecting flight status prior travelling due to sudden closure of Pakistani airspace

THAI Smile Airways to remind passenger check the connecting flight status prior travelling due to sudden closure of Pakistani airspace

According to sudden closure of Pakistani airspace due to rising tension between Pakistan and India situation, THAI Airways has announced that normal flight operations to Europe is now resumed through airspace outside Pakistan's. THAI's flights from Bangkok to Europe will be operated as follow:

Day-time flights Thursday, 28 February 2019:

- Flight TG974/ Bangkok-Moscow (flight will be delayed from the normal schedule)
- Flight TG916/ Bangkok-London
- Flight TG922/ Bangkok-Frankfurt
- Flight TG962/ Bangkok-Stockholm

Night-time flights on Friday, 1 March 2019 (passengers are required to check-in on the night of 28 February 2019):

- Flight TG910/ Bangkok-London
- Flight TG924/ Bangkok-Munich
- Flight TG930/ Bangkok-Paris
- Flight TG934/ Bangkok-Brussels
- Flight TG944/ Bangkok-Rome
- Flight TG936/ Bangkok-Vienna
- Flight TG960/ Bangkok-Stockholm
- Flight TG970/ Bangkok-Zurich
- Flight TG950/ Bangkok-Copenhagen
- Flight TG954/ Bangkok-Oslo

Furthermore, THAI operates flights TG507 and TG508 between Bangkok and Muscat but will not make a stopover in Karachi. THAI cancels flights TG345 and TG346 between Bangkok and Lahore today (28 February, 2019).

THAI Smile Airways, operating domestic and international connecting flights of THAI Airways, reminds all passengers who travelling by the flight affected by the sudden closure of Pakistani airspace to check the status of the flights. However, the flights are subject to change due to the situation and highest security for passengers.

To assist and facilitate THAI and THAI Smile customers in accordance with international standard requirements, passengers who hold tickets on February 27 to March 4, 2019 on the routes affected by flight cancellation may change their itineraries. Fees and charges will be exempted, and conditions apply.

Thai Airways International Public Company Limited (THAI) and THAI Smile Airways Co., Ltd would like to apologize to all passengers for any inconvenience caused. All passengers traveling on the aforementioned flights are advised to check the Company's announcements and keep abreast of all related news. For information on flight schedules, passengers may check at thaiairways.com or THAI Contact Center at Tel. 0-356-1111, THAI Smile Call Center Tel.1181, (+66) 02-118-8888.